Dear Ms. Rivera,

2

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Director of Learning role at Acme Corp. With 15+ years of experience in L&D and Change Management, I am excited to...

3

At Neudesic, I built an AI-enabled learning ecosystem using 360Learning + Synthesia, reducing onboarding time by 35%.

4

At Allstate, I led enterprise change programs across 40,000+ employees, driving measurable adoption and engagement outcomes.

5

I am confident this background makes me a strong fit for your team. I look forward to discussing how I can contribute to your organization's goals and mission.

6

Yours sincerely,
Laura Finney

Date & contact details

1

Include your contact info, the date, and the recipient's name, title, and company address.

Tip: Address the specific person, not "To Whom It May Concern."

Salutation

2

Use a professional greeting. Address the hiring manager by name whenever possible.

Opening paragraph

3

State the role and where you found it. Express genuine enthusiasm and briefly state why you're a strong fit — hook them in the first sentence.

Tip: Lead with impact, not "My name is..."

Middle paragraph(s)

4

Highlight achievements and skills aligned to the role. Quantify results where possible and mirror language from the job description.

Tip: One strong, specific example beats three vague claims.

Closing paragraph

5

Reiterate your fit and express eagerness to discuss further. Include a clear call to action and thank the reader for their consideration.

Tip: End with confidence, not apology.

Sign-off & signature

6

Close formally — "Yours sincerely" or "Best regards" — followed by your full name.

Tip: Include a digital signature for a polished touch.
